Note-taking is a necessary part of the language learning. It helps students learn, keep, and remember information. Taking notes make them think differently about the subject; it requires the learners to look at things differently. It also helps them pay attention during the class because they are actively listening and experiencing in the classroom. Not only do the students meet their needs by taking good notes in English classes, but everyone should find note-taking as the best way to work with written and spoken texts. Taking notes let learners check interesting points from what they are researching, reading or listening to. Writing some parts in their own words, also called note-making, makes everything clear for the notetakers when looking back at the text. It is a much better learning technique than just depending on your own memory. Remember that word-for-word note-taking can hurt systematic thinking as it takes away the time of explaining ideas through examples and pictures by just writing down facts without context. It is why Isaac Newton said that he did great things just because he was sitting in the great men's classes and taking notes.

A collocation is two or more words combined together. These combinations sound natural to native speakers, but students of English have to learn them with exercise because they are often difficult to guess. The unnatural combinations are wrong for native speakers of English. As an example, the adjective "fast" collocates with "cars" but not with "look." Learning collocations is the most important part of learning the vocabulary of a language. Some collocations seem fixed or very strong. In "take a photo," no word other than "take" collocates with the photo to give the same meaning. The other example is "make an effort" and not "do an effort."

Some collocations are more open, because several words may go together to give a similar meaning, for example, "keep to or stick to the rules." Sometimes, a pair of words may not be wrong, and people will understand it, but it may not be the natural collocation. If someone says I did a few mistakes, a fluent speaker of English may understand, but it would probably say, "I made a few mistakes."

❖ True / False

45) A word that is often used naturally is called collocation. a) True b) False

46) In learning the words of a language, learning collocation is important. a) True b) False

❖ Choose the best answer.

47) Which of the following is NOT true about collocation?

- a) Learning collocations is important ✓
b) Collocations can be learned by practice ✓
c) Collocations are natural to native speakers ✓
d) Guessing collocations is always hard for all

48) According to the passage, which of the following is a natural collocation -----.

- a) I did a few mistakes ✓
b) I did an effort
c) fast cars ✓

Most of our energy comes from fossil fuels: oil, coal, and natural gas. Fossil fuels are from plants and animals that lived millions of years ago. They are nonrenewable energy resources since they take millions of years to form, and we cannot replace them easily. By burning oil and coal, we get energy. It may be impossible to find them someday to create this energy. We need to use less energy to save these natural resources for the future.

There are many options to lower home energy use with simple changes and good energy habits. It is about being aware of our energy uses. Simple actions can reduce energy consumption. Many people are using more and more energy. It causes our weather conditions to change and may result in higher energy bills. We all need to be more energy efficient and use less, reuse, and recycle it in our homes. Working together to save energy will help us have a healthier planet for future generations.

❖ True / False

- 51) We have burnt plants and animals as fossil fuels for millions of years. a) True b) False
- 52) Simple changes and good energy habits lower home energy use. a) True b) False

Donating is a great way to help others by giving something to someone who needs it more than us. It could be clothes, food, toys, or even our time. People donate clothes and other items to some stores, and others can buy them at less price. The money from these sales often goes to help people in need.

Another place to donate is a place that collects food for people who don't have enough to eat. By donating food, we can help someone have enough to eat. Sometimes, we can give money. Some organizations use the money to build schools, provide medical help, or even protect the environment. We can also donate our time by helping or using our skills to help those who need it. Whether reading to children at a library or cleaning up a park, our help can bring joy and make our community. Donating is a generous act. It teaches us to think of others and be kind.
